

Preparing individuals for college and career through stronger alignment between education, business, and the community.

Is your business interested in developing the future workforce? ElevateEdAZ invites companies to help align high school classes and curriculum with current and future workforce needs. By increasing student exposure to career pathways and providing opportunities for students to apply academics through work-based learning, the business community can champion strong talent pipelines for our future.

Strengthen your future workforce by providing an internship for a high school senior.

Host a job shadow experience for students to explore career pathways and learn real-world career readiness expectations!

Connect directly with educators through Educator Externships

Get Involved Today!

ElevateEdAZ is partnered with Phoenix Union High School District and Mesa Public Schools to pilot more strategic and impactful business engagement in local high schools.

Through intentional school engagement, businesses can support students as they discover paths toward high quality degrees and credentials.
